

RE-ELECT JUDGE HENRY HORNER DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE PROBATE JUDGE

He has been OVERWHELMINGLY endorsed by the Chicago Bar Association and the Lawyers' Association. The Chicago Bar Association says:

"By his administration of the office of Probate Judge during the past four years, Judge Horner has DEMONSTRATED his EXCEPTIONAL capacity and fitness for the office."

ELECTION DAY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER FIFTH

Judge Henry Horner, born November 30, 1878, a product of Chicago. His parents were born here. He resides at 4432 Grand Boulevard. He was educated in the Chicago Public Schools, Chicago Manual Training School, Chicago University, Chicago Kent College of Law, and was admitted to the bar of this state in 1899, and has practiced law until December, 1914, when he took the bench as Probate Judge. He is now completing his first term as Judge of that court.

Member of the Chicago Bar Association, Illinois State Bar Association, American Bar Association, and various clubs.

In discharging the duties of the Probate Court during the past four years of his service, Judge Horner has displayed legal ability, judicial qualifications, and such fairness, intelligence and industry that his court has been accorded the approval of the bar and the admiration of the community. He has applied efficiency and business methods to the dispatch of the court's work, disposing of it expeditiously and yet with just and fair consideration of the cases that have come before him.

The Probate Court affects the interests which require the most zealous and impartial administration. This court deals not only with the affairs of minors and incompetents, but guards the welfare and property of widows and orphans.

Immediately upon his induction into office, Judge Horner began an investigation into old estates, finding estates that had been unnecessarily kept open since 1878. He organized a special department for the purpose of closing up these old estates and has succeeded during the past four years in closing up many thousands of them, requiring defaulting administrators, guardians, conservators, and other administrative officers to account to the heirs, beneficiaries and wards of many of these estates.

He enforced the policy that members of the family, rather than strangers, should administer decedent's estates, adopting a system of card indices in connection with the closing up of estates.

The bonds of administrative officers are the most important part of the administration. Judge Horner has driven from the Probate Court all "fake bondsmen," and has examined into bonds of all administrators and other administrative officers of this court. The costs of administration have been rather high in Cook County, but under the power granted to Judge Horner by statute, he has released costs in the smaller estates where the payment costs has been a burden to the beneficiaries. The amount released by him in these smaller estates has amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars; notwithstanding this, the clerk's office has paid over to the county a profit each year of his administration, after paying all expenses of maintaining the office.

Among other things accomplished by Judge Horner has been the following:

Secured a reduction in the costs of legal publications in the Probate Court by abolishing what is known as "rebates."

Saving the necessity of taking out administration in many cases where decedent left but small estate.

Required all "attorneys-in-fact" receiving moneys on behalf of foreign heirs to account to the court showing that the money was actually paid over to their principals.

Required the payment of personal property taxes to the county from estates before they could be closed.

Required administrators and executors to close estates where practical, promptly after the year of administration.

Established the practice of personally examining minors in open court in settlement cases for injuries to minors.

Opened up a bureau in connection with the Probate Court so that persons without means may have counsel furnished to them gratuitously by the county.

Established rules requiring notice to be given to all members of the family of the appointment of conservators and guardians.

Prepared a revision of the law of the state on the subject of the administration of decedent's estates, the administration of minor's estates, and of insane and spendthrift ward estates. On each of these subjects Judge Horner has prepared a complete code for statutory enactment and to facilitate and simplify the procedure and make more efficient the administration of these estates—work of months and years—introduced in the Senate as Bills No. 509, No. 510 and No. 511. Spent my own money to further legislation on the subject.

Revised rules of Court.

Work of the Court up to date—prompt hearings.

President of the 7th Exemption District Neighborhood Committee.

Chairman of Legal Advisory Committee, 8th District.

Arbitrator in controversies between employer and Union Labor—decisions uniformly regarded as fair.
